BEATTIE MURDER SEEN BY FARMER

Stranger Claims to Have Witnessed the Killing.

HUNTING FOR A STRAY COW

Man Asserts He Saw Man Club Woman with Gun, Then Shoot Her—Beattie, He Says, Furnished Him Hush Money.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 7.—The case of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., all complete except for the court's charge to the jury and the summing up of the lawyers, may be reopened for the addition of startling testimony before it passes to the hands of the jury.

In his mail Wendenburg found the letter which has caused instant action. It was mailed at a city the name of which Wendenburg withheld from publication.

"I write this because my conscience will no longer allow me to be still," were the first words of the letter. "I saw Henry Beattie kill his wife," the letter continues, "and I have kept my mouth shut to this minute because I was afraid. But I don't want him to escape punishment and now I am willing to come and testify to what I know if you want me."

The writer then gave his name, the address of his boarding house in the city to which he said he had fled two days after the murder on money furnished by Henry Beattie himself, and the name of the man in that city who now employs him. Then followed his story. This is substantially the way he told it:

"I was employed by (Mr. Wendenburg withholds the name), who is a farmer and who has a farm near the Midlothian turnpike in Chesterfield county not far from South Richmond. I was a farm hand. On the evening of July 18 last, a cow belonging to Mr. —— strayed and I was sent out to hunt for it.

"The cow got into the pine woods and I followed it until long after dark. Some time after 10 o'clock I was in the pine woods on the right hand side of the Midlothian turnpike as you go out from Richmond and I saw a light. As I walked closer to the road I saw an automobile standing in the road and there were two people in it, a man and a woman. They were both sitting in the front seat.

"They were quareling, I could hear them talking loud, so I did not show myself, but waited behind a bush a few feet from the edge of the road in the thick pine woods to hear what they said.

"The woman was pleading with the man She was saying that she wanted his love back again and she did not want the man to be cruel to her. The man answered roughly.

"At one time I heard him say, 'I am tired of all this, I am going to end this.' Then I heard the woman say, 'How are you going to end it?' The man said something I could not hear, and then I heard him say, 'I'll show you how I'm going to end it.' He got out of the machine and walked across to the opposite side of the road from where I was and then after he had been there a minute he came back with something in his hand. I could not see what it was in the dark. The woman screamed once. Then the man who was standing in the road slung what he had in hand, and hit the woman on the side of the face. She fell from the machine to the road and she did not make a sound.

"For a minute the man stood looking at her and then I heard him say, 'Damn you, you're not dead yet. I'll fix you.' Then he up with a gun, which was what he had hit the woman with, and he shot her where she lay in the road by the front seat of the automobile. I did not see where he shot her.

"I saw him throw the gun somewhere and begin to lift his wife's body in the front seat of the automobile and I came out from the trees.

"The man turned around and saw me and he said to me, 'Did you see this?'

"I told him yes, I had seen it. "Damn you, what are you going to do about it?' he said.

"I didn't say anything. Then he began to threaten me. He said he would give me some money and a suit of clothes if I would go away. I told the man I would go away. Then he told me to come to Beattie's store the next day and there would be some money for me. I went the next day and got some money and bought a suit of clothes.

Upon reading this letter Wendenburg immediately sent Detectives Jarrel and Wilshire of the Richmond force out to the farmer whose name had been mentioned in the letter as the former employer of the volunteer witness. They verified the fact that a man by the name of the letter writer had worked for this farmer and had left the farm shortly after the night of the murder. They also verified the story of the strayed cow.

COLVIN SETTLES CASE OUT OF COURT TODAY

David Colvin, who was arrested a week ago on a charge of using indescent language in the presence of a woman and whose trial was set for this afternoon, settled the case out of court this morning by paying the costs, $3.90. The complainant was John Perry, the present pound master.

The trouble in this case arose over two hogs in possession of Melissa Owen. A writ of replevin was secured from Justice Breining of Augusta township and the hogs were delivered to Perry but before the case came off Justice Breining's term of office expired and Justice Carter, Breining's successor, rendered a judgement in favor of Colvin. Perry refused to give up the hogs claiming $20.65 for their keep for 57 days. A second replevin was secured from Justice Preston of Superior. At the end of the trial Perry was allowed $3 for the keep of the two hogs and $3.50 for livery hire connected with the case. Perry, however, had sold one of the two hogs in the meantime and Colvin was given a judgment of $5 which was the difference in the price of the hog. Perry then went to the Prosecuting Attorney at Ann Arbor and secured a warrant for the arrest of Colvin for using indescent language in the presence of a woman.

SURPRISED AT ACT OF BAILEY

Washington Hears Senator Will Not Seek Re-Election.

DECISION IS IRREVOCABLE

Texas Statesman's Position in Congress Has Not Been a Satisfactory One for a Long Time—Elected Senator 1901.

Washington, Sept. 7.—Senator Bailey's announcement from Gainesville, Tex., that he would not be a candidate for re-election and that his decision was irrevocable, was received here with surprise, though it is understood that before he left Washington he confided to close friends that he proposed to retire at the end of his term. It is said the senator's position in congress has not been satisfactory for a long t me.

Instead of being a leader the brilliant Texan has been much of an outsider of late, and his differences with the controlling forces in the senate Democratic minority reached a climax last March, when, after the Democrats insisted on approving the recall feature of the Arizona constitution, the senator sent his resignation to Goveror Colquit. The governor declined by telegraph to accept the resignation—then it was withdrawn. A dozen Democratic senators had wired the governor that the proposed resignation would be a "national calamity."

Since that time various things have occurred to increase Senator Bailey's dissatisfaction and put him more and more out of harmony with his party in congress. When the vote on the farmers' free list bill was taken near the close of the extra session Senator Bailey prevented the adoption of the measure without amendment, being the only Democrat to vote with the regular Republicans against the alliance of Democrats and insurgent Republicans. The motion to adopt was lost by one vote.

Senator Bailey was elected to the senate in January, 1901, to succeed Senator Horace Chilton and was reelected in 1907 for the term ending March 3, 1913. Prior to entering the senate he had been a member of the house since the Fifty-second congress, serving as Democratic leader in the Fifty-fifth congress.

NO MERCY FOR DIEGLE

Ohio Confessor Will Have to Wear Stripes.

Exposures Made by Former Senate Officer Are Taken Up for Consideration by Prosecutors.

Columbus, O., Sept. 7.—Prosecuting Attorney E. C. Turner and Attorney General T. S. Hogan went into conference to consider the confession of Rodney J. Diegle, former sergeant-at-arms of the Ohio senate, who was convicted of aiding bribery. They announced beforehand that the confession did not tell everything Diegle knows in connection with the alleged grafting in the legislature and that clemency for Diegle probably would not be recommended.

After only fifteen minutes together, Hogan and Turner parted and the latter made this statement:

"Our position has not been changed. Diegle came to us and volunteered to confess. He has not told everything. If he tells all we will give him some consideration. The confession he has made will not do. Unless he tells the remainder—the whole truth—he will have to wear stripes."

MILLER AWAITS TRIAL UNDER 1,000 BONDS

The trial of Henry Milley who was arrested Tuesday by Officer Ryan and Deputy Sheriff Hipp at Petersburg, Monroe county, on a charge of arson, was held in Ann Arbor Wednesday afternoon. Miller waived examination and was bound over to the October term of the circuit court. He was allowed $1,000 bonds but as no bondsmen appeared he was committed to the Ann Arbor jail to await trial.

Miller was charged with setting fire to the barns of Arthur Geraghty and Henry Platt, June 23, 1911. It is claimed that Miller received the sum of $25 from Geraghty for setting the barns afire. Geraghty's barn, which was heavily insured, burned to the ground together with considerable machinery, while Platt's barn was saved with small loss.

Just where this trouble will end is not definitely known but before the case ends it is expetced that there will be some interesting facts learned.

CATTLE FROM YPSI HERD GO TO SOUTHERN EXPERIMENT STATION

C. A. Willson, as head of the department of animal husbandry of the Tennessee Experiment Station, has just purchased from the Hatch Herd of registered Holstein cattle eight animals to constitute the foundation stock of that state institution. Mr. Willson made good at the Missouri State Agricultural College by making a world's record or two with some of the excellent Holstein cows of that state institution. His ability was recognized by the Tennessee Experiment Station and his services secured there. He was sent out to buy this foundation stock and, after looking extensively he selected eight animals from the Hatch Herd.

Mr. Willson said that he was particularly impressed with the offspring of Woodcrest De Kol Lad, No. 45103, the senior herd sire of this herd. He regarded them as the evenest and best lot of young stock he had seen.

The proprietor of the Hatch Herd journeyed down into the Catskill mountains in search of a herd sire. He there found a multimillionaire breeder of Holstein cattle, who not only had the money but the ambition to have the best bred herd of Holstein cattle in the world. This multimillionaire bought one small farm up in the Catskills and built him a summer home there. The view off down the Hudson was magnificent. A beautiful stream of water rolled over the rocks just back of his house. The farm was valuable from a landscape gardener's standpoint, but not very valuable from the standpoint of fertility. But this multi-millionaire continued to buy the all but abandoned farms that adjoined him until now he has expanding acres running up into the thousands. He has many of these abandoned acres now growing alfalfa in abundance. Farm buildings and equipment are of course the very best. One man is employed by the year who does nothing but drive a manure spreader.

Out of a herd of more than a hundred Woodcrest De Kol Lad, No. 45103, was selected. His sire now has better than eighty daughters in the Advanced Registry and others yet to be tested, which will in all probability bring the number up above one hundred and thirty, and this, it is believed, will lead all sires of the breed. The proprietor of the Hatch Herd feels well repaid for the trouble and expense necessary to secure Woodcrest De Kol Lad. He believes that "blood will tell," and keeps at the masthead, "The head of the herd is half of the herd," and that so long as this is true, nobody can afford to have that half inferior, for in this case the male is usually "the better half."

SALEM TOWNSHIP MAN SWALLOWS POISON TO ESCAPE LIFE SENTENCE

TRIAL FOR A SERIOUS CHARGE TO HAVE BEEN HELD THIS AFTERNOON----SENTENCE, IF CONVICTED, WOULD PROBABLY HAVE BEEN MAXIMUM

Ann Arbor, Sept. 7.—Daniel Alford, the Salem township farmer who was arrested a short time ago on a charge of cruelty to his wife and against whom more serious charges were preferred by his step-daughter after his arrest, took his own life this afternoon in the county jail where he was awaiting trial.

The prisoner had been in a somewhat stpuified condition for some little time although the reason was not known by the authorities at the jail. Mrs. Alford called there today and shortly after she had left he was found dead in his cell. He had swallowed a quantity of poison.

The trial was to have been held this afternoon and it is probable, in view of the damaging evidence that has come out against him, that he would have been condemned to life sentence.

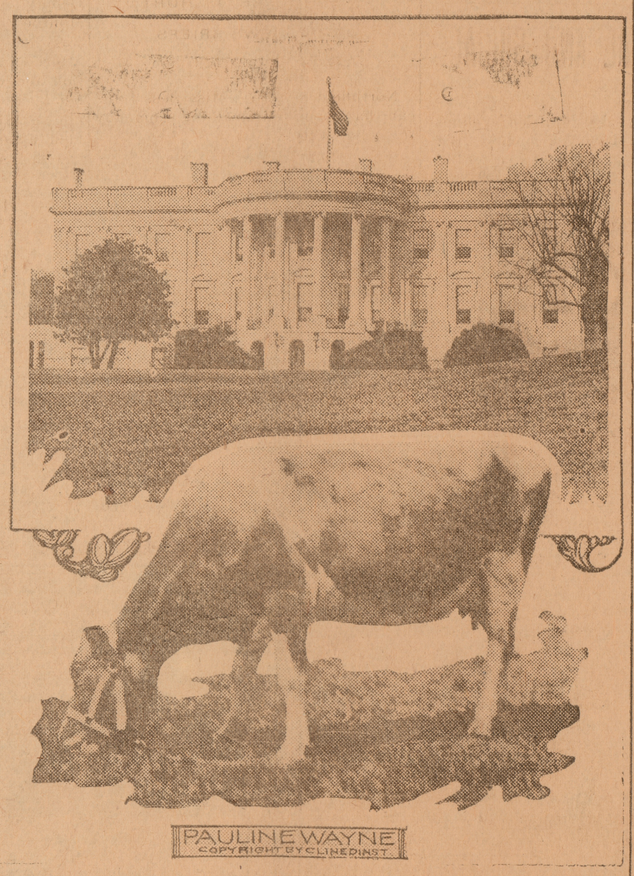
PERRY HAS HIS TROUBLES IN THE DOG BUSINESS

John Perry, the poundmaster, certainly does have his troubles. First he finds a stray dog on the street without a license, and then he has some trouble catching his victim, when he has him securely fastened to a rope he lands him at the pound. Here the dog is obliged to remain for four days and if he is not claimed and the costs paid he is disposed of without dispatch.

A few days ago after much waiting and watching he was successful in catching John Thumm's dog without a license. The poor dog was immediately taken to the pound headquarters. He was there only a few hours when Mr. Thumm appeared on the scene and asked that he might be allowed to see the prisoner. As soon as the dog was located its owner gave it a toss outside of the pound walls and quickly drove away, his faithful dog following altogether too quickly for the pound master to again secure him. Mr. Thumm went directly to the city clerk's office and had his dog properly tagged and left a dollar with the chief of police to pay the pound master's fee, all before the pound master arrived to make his complaint.

PRESIDENT TAFT STILL CONSIDERING OFFER TO PUT THE WHITE HOUSE COW ON THE STAGE



Washington, Sept. 7.—President Taft has not replied as yet to the letter from an enterprising theatrical manager who wants to stage Miss Pauline Wayne in the play "Way Down East." When he does send his reply it is expected to be what his predecessor in the chair would call "a corker."

Miss Wayne, who, by the way, is the White House cow presented to the president by Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, has not been consulted in the matter, but as she is a Wisconsin cow and not a Yankee bovine it is believed that she would prefer starring in a play of some other name.

UNLAWFUL AMUSEMENT.

The prevalent discussion of the amusement question indicates quite clearly that something is the matter That large class of people that regard life as something other than a joke and who regard their sojourn here as associated with certain public and private obligations seem to interpret the bent of many Americans for amusement as a form of insanity. They say we have gone pleasure crazy. Well, the Americans are faddists, are they not, or extremists, or whatever you may decide to call it. When they go into a thing, they go in heavy. They are now in heavy on amusement. They are undoubtedly wasting a great deal of valuable time, a great deal more time than is necessary for a rational and healthful recuperation and recreation of the worn-out bodily tissues incident to the strenuous business life we are living. To a very large extent they are not following after amusement as a needed tonic.

Commercial travelers are complaining that they find it almost impossible to do business as they used to do it. They can't find the proprietor in. He is either off in his automobile or out playing golf or down to the ball game. Players in the theatres complain that they are compelled to play on Sunday in the larger cities, that there is a theatrical trust, and that they cannot control their own desires in the making of the contracts, that they get no more for playing seven days in the week than they formerly got for playing six.

And as we have gone so far in the pursuit of amusement that we are regularly violating the law. Sunday theatres are unlawful in Michigan. Sunday baseball is unlawful in Michigan, and not only the players, but those attending upon the play, as we understand, are subject to fine and imprisonment. And in Ypsilanti we have the sorry spectacle of a public park, maintained at public expense, being regularly used on Sunday for unlawful purposes. And, as we are informed, one of the policemen of the city is interested in the affairs and takes up a collection for the ball-players and others interested in promoting this side of the question. An officer of the city, whose duty it is to see that the laws of the city are enforced, instead of exercising his sworn purpose to prevent the laws from being violated, actaully promotes their violation. And we understand that of late we have been having a form of Sunday theatre in Ypsilanti. Many business places are open all day Sunday, contrary to law. At least it would seem they would neither come under the exceptions of charity or necessity.

It would seem to us that those charged with the enforcement of the law should first proceed to repeal the city ordinances which aim to protect the Christian Sabbath as a day of rest before they proceed deliberately to violate those laws. This wanton violation is a very bad educational factor in any community. It simply creates and sustains disrespect for all law and all authority and, in proportion as we approach that condition, are we approaching a dangerous condition, for, if we are to leave it to the individual to decide for himself what laws he regards as of sufficient binding force to restrain him, he will go farther and farther down the criminal calendar, until he reaches the limit, as it has been reached in Ypsilanti, and costs human life, and he who shed blood and took an innocent life said he came to Ypsilanti expecting to commit a lesser crime because he knew it was an "easy" town.

The question of how one shall spend his time on Sunday is quite largely a personal question, but there can be no doubt of the duty of the state to see that its laws are respected and enforced and that amusement on Sunday is not carried to the extent of violating state and local laws, as well as the divine law. If each individual will seriously analyze the duty he owes to himself, to his business, to his employer, of going to his Monday morning task above par in efficiency, in order that he may balance up the below par efficiency which he may reach later in the week, he can pretty easily ascertain for himself what ought to be the line of recreation which he will follow on the Sabbath day, even though his conception of this duty is a purely selfish conception. We do not think that any man will deny the necessity for one day's rest in seven, a necessity for recreation, and if our industrial system is such today, is permitted to be such, that the laboring man, so called, is compelled to labor assiduously and very largely indoors, where the air is none too good, for six long days, he undoubtedly needs much of the pure air and rest and sunshine on Sunday. But he certainly doesn't need to play baseball after having worked physically hard for six days proceeding Sunday.

We feel that our industrial program ought to be so amended, if necessary, in the interests of greater efficiency of him who labors with brain or brawn, to have a Saturday half-holiday regularly. If we all did this, no injustice would result to the others, and it would seem that it would help to solve the question of saving Sunday for such uses as its Creator intended.

But in the meantime, there is no valid excuse for violating the state, local and divine law in order to produce amusement. If we must have all of Sunday for amusement, as well as a large part of the week, then we should amend the federal law abolishing the oath of office, which is defined to be the oath of allegiance as well, amend the state law providing for "observance of the first day of the week and the prevention and punishment of immortality," and repeal Ordinance No. 53 relative to the observance of the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday."

Dingley, managing editor of the Evening Telegraph-Press, one of the aspirants for the Republican nomination for congress and well known among Michigan politicians, lies dangerously injured in Bronson hospital as the result of an automobile accident. A runaway team crashed into Dingley's automobile, one of the horses jumping over the front of the machine onto Dingley, who was sitting in the front seat of the car. One of the hoofs of the animal cut a terrible gash in his left side. He was bruised about the head and his body was badly cut. It is also feared he has internal injuries.

Dingley's eldest son, Edward, who was driving the car, was also badly injured, but his condition is not regarded as serious. The accident happened on a crowded section of Portage street and young Dingley had no opportunity to turn his machine from out of the path of the runaway team. The front of the automobile was completely wrecked.

Use TIZ-Smaller Feet

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Everyone who is troubled with sore, sweaty or tender feet—swollen feet—smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions can quickly make their feet well now. Here is instant relief and a lasting, permanent remedy—it's called TIZ. TIZ makes sore feet well and swollen feet are quickly reduced to their natural size. Thousands of ladies have been able to wear shoes a full size smaller with perfect comfort.

It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleanses them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists 25 cents per box or direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Woman's Danger Periods Made Safe

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Here is proof:

Natick, Mass.,—"I cannot express what I went through during the Change of Life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I had a tumor.

"I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Nathan B. Greaton, 51 No. Main St., Natick, Mass.

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Cornwallville, N. Y.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time for Change of Life, nervousness, and a fibroid growth.

"Two doctors advised me to go to the hospital, but one day while I was away visiting, I met a woman who told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and I know it helped me wonderfully. I am very thankful that I was told to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. Boughton, Cornwallville, N. Y., Greene Co.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

My commission expires Feb. 7, 1914.

AMUSEMENTS

Miss Green, who or course, is Shirley Rossmore, affords an interesting scene when she enters. There follows a remarkably stimulating encounter between her and Ryder. Delighted with her frankness and cleverness he asks her to write his biography and puts her in possession of secret documents from which to get the data. After being one of the members of his household for a considerable length of time, the master's subjugation to her cleverness and wit is so complete, that he asks her to marry her son in order to keep him out of the clutches of the daughter of the hated Rossmores. Her keen sense of womanhood and her love for Jefferson will not allow her to further deceive those who have shown her personal kindness and thereupon she admits her identity as being the real Miss Rossmore.

Outwitted and cheated in his fondest hopes Ryder in a fit of exasperation, orders her from his house, whereupon the son Jefferson interferes, telling his father his determination to leave with her and become her husband. Here Shirley's pride interferes and she denounces Ryder, Sr., assuring him that she would not allow herself to fall so low as to marry the son of a man who tramples all good under his golden heel and who refuses to lift his hand to save her father from unmerited disgrace. This scene has been unanimously conceded by all critics to be one of the very best introduced in a drama of recent years.

"THE CAT AND THE FIDDLE."

The attraction at the Ypsilanti Opera House, September 11, Chas. A. Sellons music extravaganza success "The Cat and the Fiddle", deals with magic, sprites, gnomes, elfs, fairies, and a story of the mythical isle of Eye. It is said to form a combination that pleases the most fastidious, and reminds one of "The Babes in the Woods," "Mother Goose" and the present successes of the century, "Little Nemo."

"The Cat and the Fiddle" has many weird and novel stage characters: The Good Genii and her wonderful gigantic cat; Queen Circe, the false queen, who with great Gobs rules over the destines of the mystic island, and the earth beings who are spirited away to Elfland; all contain many new ideas in the line of musical comedy.

The presenting company numbers forty people. The cast is headed by Mr. Harry B. Watson, a comedian who has scored heavily. He is ably assisted by a company of clever artists. Lawrence Gotthard, an animal impersonator of ability, is the "Cat." Geo. E. Hart, Marty Martz, J. O. Campbell, and Geo. E. Wakefield are all among the principals.

HAIR THAT FASCINATES

Who Wants Luxurious Hair Full of Life and Beauty?

Start now madam, September is just the month to begin to acquire a glorious head of hair of which you will be justly proud during the social events of winter-time.

If you haven't used PARISIAN SAGE you aren't on the high road to hair beauty. PARISIAN SAGE is the most delightful preparation that destroys the dandruff germs and by so doing removes in a short time the cause of dandruff, falling hair, itching scalp, faded and lifeless hair.

Dandruff germs are obstructionists; they prevent the hair from receiving it's proper nourishment by ravenously devouring the same nourishment. Use PARISIAN SAGE for one week and note the wonderful improvement.

Duane Spalsbury Guarantees it, 50 cents a bottle.

GRAY HAIR MAKES YOU LOOK OLD

A Simple Remedy Brings Back the Natural Color—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear.

Don't neglect your hair. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and you will be surprised at the quick results.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special agent, Weinmann-Matthews Co.

The Great Public Pulse Says: CALUMET

It says "Calumet" — For the critical housewives of America have found that Calumet Baking Powder makes the most appetizing, light, wholesome food — that Calumet is the most economical and dependable of all Baking Powders.

If you, too, Mrs. Housewife, want to learn what Calumet means to you, bake with it just one batch of biscuits. If you don't find it unlike any other — so much greater in leavening power — in uniformity — in purity — return it, and get your money back.

That's all we ask — and think what it means to you to always be sure that each time you bake you will have the most tempting biscuits, pastry, etc. Think of it — the highest quality Baking Powder at a moderate price — the most economical in use. Cheap big can kinds give you quantity, but not quality. High-priced trust brands mean extravagance. For no Baking Powder can be equal in quality to Calumet. Was not that proven when it received the Highest Award at World's Pure Food Exposition?

Don't be deceived — ask for Calumet — and get it.
